Mr. Geo. Epperson, this county, has accepted a position with the Bray Clothing Co., Louisville, as stenographer and left for his place of business last week. Young man prepare yourself for a good position and you will find it.

The people of Milltown are very much elated over the action of the fiscal court, making an order for two bridges in the county, one two cross Russell's creek at their town. Milltown is a business point, there being several stores and a large flouring mill. During the rainy season the creek be comes past-fording, hence the people cannot reach the market. The building of the bridge will obviate this inconvenience, and when a farmer needs store goods he can get them without riding miles out of the way to be accommodated.

Dr. J. R. Hood, who has been living at Clementsville, Casey county, was in Columbia last Saturday, and Monday morning in company with his wife left for Oklahoma. The social at the residence of Mr. Z. M. Staples, last Friday night, was largely attended, nearly all the young people of Columbia being in attendance. Mr. Will Blandford, of Lebanon, a young man known in this community, was removed from his father's residence to the hospital, last week, to undergo an operation for appendicitis. We have received a copy of the Chung Sai Yat Po, a Chinese daily published in San Francisco, Cal. There is no mark to indicate who sent it, but we take it that it is from our old friend, Jo Bryan. It is a curiosity and contains much valuable information. Persons who desire to read it can call.

Our Greensburg correspondent writes as follows: "Circuit court adjourned last week; the grand jury returned about fifty indictments. The Fiscal Court has met and adjourned. They failed to agree upon plans for better roads, and failed to provide for bridging Green river. The stove business has revived, many loaded wagons being upon our streets."

Eld. F. C. Shearer, who is a close observer, has been paying particular attention to the fruit trees in his rides over the county, examining the buds whenever an occasion presented itself. He reports to the News that the peach-trees are not killed, and in his judgment the prospects for all varieties of fruit are better than for many years in the past.

Mrs. Poynter, who lived near the residence of Mr. Z. M. Staples, died last Thursday with pulmonary trouble. She had been bed-fast for many weeks before the end came. Mrs. Poynter was a Miss Browning and before removing to Adair county she lived in Metcalfe, near East Fork. She belonged to an excellent family, and received the best attention during her illness.

Almarine Polson, a young man who lives in Clinton county, became suddenly insane last week. When discovered he was walking along the road, wringing his hands, saying: "They are going to do me like they did Goebel." It is believed his derangement was caused from reading so much about the assassination.

Mr. Charles Bryant, Purdy, was in town Saturday and reported a good deal of sickness in his community. "Uncle" Jimmie Corbin is in a dangerous condition from la grippe.

The guests at the Whipp Hotel, Liberty, were entertained with some very excellent music last Wednesday evening. A representative of this paper was present, and he reports that the selections were up-to-date pieces, and rendered faultlessly. Mr. Whipp, the proprietor of the hotel, is one of Liberty's landmarks, and he delights in entertaining his friends upon any and all occasions.

Mr. Mont White, who is a soldier in Philippine Islands, writes to his father, in this city, under recent date that he is getting along nicely. He states that two companies of his regiment engaged the Philippines a few days before he wrote, killing three hundred men. The Americans only lost two men. He writes that he will probably reach home by next Christmas.

Mrs. W. S. Stone, of Jamestown, who was a sister of Mrs. Rey Simpson, was en route for Battle Creek, Michigan, when the intelligence of Mrs. Simpson's death reached Jamestown. The two ladies were devoted sisters, and the shock to Mrs. Stone upon reaching Michigan cannot be described. Those who have been so sorely bereft have the sympathy of this office.

To give our readers an idea of how fast news flies we recite the following: Last Wednesday the county court made an order for two bridges to be built in Adair county. Judge Butler and County Attorney Garnett were appointed to let the contracts. Saturday night the committee received communications from contractors living in different cities of the country wanting the job.

Take Warning.
Persons owing me taxes for 1896-9 must arrange to pay at once or I will proceed to levy. J. W. HUNT, Sheriff.

The Turning Point.

For years it has been admitted, by the conservative people of this county, that several bridges were badly needed across the streams that flow through Adair and the bridge question has been agitated by the people who live near Green river and Milltown every time there was a tide in the streams and no encouragement has been given until last year when the question was brought before our magistrates and at that time they pledged no substantial aid but showed much interest in the question. Last week, however, the Fiscal Court was in session and the people of Green river and Milltown were here and when they left they could see in their imaginations powerful iron spans across the dangerous watercourses that have so long been fearful barriers in their ways. The Fiscal Court decided to bridge Green river at a point to be determined on the 19th, and also to bridge Russell's creek at Milltown. It was a hard question to determine as it meant an increase in the levy of 324 cents on the $100 worth of property and our county guardians are not extravagant. On the first vote it failed, but it was not dropped. After the vote had been taken and the question lost, some good speeches were made that aroused the whole court and Squire Eubank who had voted against the question announced that he could pay his tax and if the people were so anxious for the bridges he was willing to vote for them. He moved that the court reconsider, which carried. The question was again put and carried 4 to 3. In order to acquaint the people of the county and in justice to each magistrate we give the vote. Ayes, Williams, Wolford, Gowen and Eubank. No, Loy, Kemp and Biggs.

We believe the taxpayers of this county in the main, will indorse the action of the court. To our mind they have done the right thing at the right time. The people of this county are amply able to bridge the streams and the people along Green river and Russell Creek have shown a liberal spirit in this matter. They have several hundred dollars pledged as contribution to the bridge fund. We consider this act of our magistrates as the turning point in this county. We believe that one improvement leads to another, that when these bridges shall have been completed, others that are needed will be built, that the bridges will stimulate the making of better roads and that within a few years Adair county will not be in the rear of progress along these lines.

Prof. A. H. Ballard has bought from Mr. T. A. Baker his lease on the M. & F. High School in this town. Mr. Baker had the building leased for five years, hence Prof. Ballard has a four year lease beginning next September. Prof. Ballard enjoys the reputation of being one of the best educators in Southern Kentucky. He is a man eminently fitted in every particular for building up a fine school in this town and in doing much good in this section. His long experience in teaching, his thorough education and his broad acquaintance throughout this part of the State bespeak success. We gladly welcome Prof. Ballard to our town and feel that the people of this section will rally to his support in building up the school here. This article is not intended to reflect upon the ability and efforts of Mr. Baker who now has the most flourishing school that has been conducted in Columbia for a number of years, but to speak the plain truth as we see it. That we can now expect our school to continue to build and prosper under a continuous able management. We regret to part from Mr. Baker as he is an able teacher, a constant worker and has produced surprising results under his short stay in the M. & F. High School.

It was our pleasure a few days ago to examine a beautiful picture of art, the work of Miss Tip Sanders, of Louisville, an artist well-known in Columbia, the earlier days of her life having been spent here. The work is a miniature breast-pin, painted on ivory, the picture being Miss Georgia Belle Taylor, daughter of Dr. C. B. Taylor, of Elkhart, Ill. Those who are acquainted with the original say the picture is a perfect likeness, the work difficult, but executed without a single defect. Miss Sanders has many friends in Columbia, who are proud of her work and the national reputation she has made as an artist.

A social was given at the residence of Mr. David Beard, on Casey's Creek, last Thursday night. It was in honor of Miss Bertha Beard, a popular young lady of the vicinity, who left for Oklahoma Monday morning. While the occasion was marked by a degree of sadness, the contemplated departure of Miss Beard, it was nevertheless a happy meeting of young people that will long be remembered. Those present were Misses Ida Sherrill, Hallie Abrel, Lucy Cook, Ida Williams; Messrs John A. Beard, G. R. Follis, Ed Morgan, Albert Hendrickson, Elby Beard, Nathan Adams, Wm. Darnell.

Mr. Thos. Winfrey, son of Judge J. G. Winfrey, of Evansville, Ind., and Miss Georgia Carpenter, same city, were secretly married in Jeffersonville a few days ago. The bride and groom are step-brother and sister. The bride is wealthy by means of her father's will. Judge Winfrey married the mother of the bride some years ago, having three sons by his first wife.

Attention.
I am still in the produce business and am prepared to handle more than I have been in the past. I will pay the highest market prices for all country produce. R. B. WILSON, 4t.

A house cat owned by Mr. Charles Hammonds, who lives two miles from town, kitted this week, and upon examination Mr. Hammonds discovered there were four kittens, but they had grown together tied up like a ball. There were four heads, four tails and sixteen feet. Quite a number of persons examined the monstrosity. Two of the kittens lived twenty-four hours and the other two forty-eight hours. They were buried, but Mr. Hammonds says they will keep several days, and if there are persons who desire to see the curiosity he will take pleasure in putting them on exhibition.

There is scarcely a day that we are not reminded of the fickleness of some individual. It may be called by another name, but it is that and nothing more. Some years ago we read a little poem entitled "Cling to Him who Clings to you." It made a lasting impression, and from that time until now we have been guided by our own opinion as to individuals. If a person has been our life long friend, we will not forsake him because those who are not his equal revile him. Take the admonition; we have tried it; "cling to him who clings to you."

Last Saturday afternoon much excitement was created on Burksville street by Jennie Durham and Mollie Taylor, two colored women, who contested in a hand to hand fight for the possession and delivery of one Bill Hickory Grissom. Bill and Mollie were passing up the street, meeting Jennie, hostilities opened and lasted for five or ten minutes, resulting in a victory for Jennie. Bill quietly witnessed the "bout," showing no partiality between the two combatants. The women were arrested and carried before Judge Atkins. Jennie was dismissed, Mollie fined five dollars.

Mrs. Rey Simpson, who was a daughter of Judge Joseph E. Hays, James-town, died at Battle Creek, Michigan, last Sunday. Mrs. Simpson had been in poor health for several years, and about twelve months ago accompanied her husband to Michigan thinking that her health would be benefited. A few years ago she and her husband resided in Delta, Colorado, and while in that city Mr. Simpson gained a national reputation for firing and killing two bank robbers as they were escaping from the town.

Mrs. Matthew Leach was elected poor-house keeper by the members of the Fiscal Court last week. Mrs. Leach has heretofore served the county in this capacity, giving entire satisfaction. In fact she gave the charges more attention than keepers of poor houses usually do. However, there is no reflection upon any man who has filled this position in recent years. The subjects have been carefully watched, comfortably fed and clothed.

Last Saturday was not as busy with the merchants as usual, it being a very beautiful day, and the farmers generally were at work. The merchants make no complaint however, and are really glad that the weather is propitious for the horny-handed sons of toil. When the farmer fails to get in his crops all business is at a standstill. They are the bone and sinew of the country, and when they prosper the whole country prospers.

Mr. Robt. McKinley, who was an excellent citizen of Russell county, died on April 1st. He was about 60 years old, and had resided for many years in Herriford's bottom. The deceased was a prosperous farmer and a brother of Mrs. M. H. Marcum, this city. He will be greatly missed by all the people of the neighborhood in which he so long resided. He was afflicted with a stomach trouble.

Mrs. T. I. Smith has sold quite a number of spring hats, and is busy day and night, getting others ready for Easter.

All classes of business have been unusually good here this spring. We do not know the exact number of pounds of poultry that have been shipped from this point, but the amount is immense. Owen Banks and Robt. Wilson are the produce buyers, and they are constantly on the go.

Mr. C. M. Breeding and wife, who are temporarily stopping at Columbia, were visiting in their old neighborhood last week.

The new saw-mill, which was recently put up on Mr. Balt's farm, is cutting timber fast. The company understands the business, and as soon as they get through here the mill will be removed to another point in the county.

The citizens of Cane Valley are a church-going people, and no community in the State possesses better morals. A drunken man is so seldom seen in our midst that the appearance of one is a curiosity. Our Sunday-schools are in a flourishing condition, both old and young being regular in their attendance.

Mr. A. T. Bartlett, the ax-handle man, whose factory is now located at Sparksville, comes home every Saturday night. Mr. Bartlett has been engaged in this business in Adair county for seventeen or eighteen years, and in that length of time he has paid out thousands and thousands of dollars for timber. His business has been a great feeder to the county which the people would more perceptibly realize were his factory to shut down. We wish there were more enterprising citizens in Adair with the push and go of Mr. Bartlett.
